

No. 15: Rumpty tumpy waltz (2h)

Oh, Oh, Antonio! (1908)

See: <http://jonathanstill.com/2015/03/12/card15/>

Music: C.W. Murphy (1875-1913)
Lyrics: Dan Lipton (1873-1935)

With a swing

mf 1 VERSE

2 ♡ ♡
♡ ♡

1. In quaint nat - ive dress an I - tal fair - ian maid Was
2. So sad grew the plight of this fair young lass She'd weep - ing dist - ressed as the streets she strayed Search - ing in faint at the sight of an ice - cream glass She'd dreamed night

8

16

ev'r - y part for her bold sweet heart and his ice cream cart Her ev'r - y day he'd come back to stay then he'd fade a - way Her

24

Eng - lish was bad it can not be den - ied And so to her - self in I - tal - ian she cried old hur - dy gur - dy all day she'd pa - rade and this she would sing to the tunes that it played

A Year of Ballet Playing Cards

CHORUS (sing twice after second verse)

f Oh! Oh! An to - ni o he's gone a - way

Left me a - lon - e o all on my own - ee o I want to meet him with his new sweet - heart then up will go An to - ni o and his ice - cream cart

Fine

Interlude

ff 3 3 3 3